

Anger Has Talked To Me Lyracs - MLM

I have been thinking a lot about anger lately,
My mental stability has got something in the making,
Why do I never let my anger out even though my body is shaking
By, calm side die and let my anger fly
I never talk about things I feel people have done to me,
Got it all closed up if needed for another century and maybe than eventually, but you see,
Anger has talked to me, time to give him the key,
He opens the door, down on the floor, scattered pieces of my heart breaking more and more let's get to the core

I remember when you told me, while crying, you were scared you didn't have the commitment,
And I was just thinking, how you have been hitting, the last nail in the coffin of my happy living,
Okay now I'm just lying, I've always hated myself, but it seems like you've been trying,
To kill the last hope I had for me in stealth, oh and you ended it well (oh no wait, I did)
I remember walking up the stairs of my school, thinking of you,
Felt scared and was having a panic attack too, what was I fool,
Keeping things going even though my friends told me to, break it off Should've listened to my crew of loyal friends when they were telling me that the problems we were having weren't new, but were still hurting (woo)

You broke my heart and a lot of things made me sad,
But when I was crying and texted you, I figured was all you said, yeah
And I was scared to death too, cause every single time you were mad or in a awful mood,
You would stop talking even though I had no clue, even though I was begging you,
To come back to me and stop pushing me away,
A happy ending is all I ever wanted us to be

You thought I was done? (Ha)

You told me I was acting hypocritical, how convenient, how have I not been seeing this,

Ain't it kinda typical, that I'm in the wrong about our communication,
Even though you never told me what was going on, what a sensation, yeah
And you'd be giving me the cold shoulder, hell you would even hold the door open for me walk out if things were actually over
But you kept coming back to me,
You told me you were pushed away from a train, but than you told me it was all a lie
And I know you were in pain, but all I could be thinking was are you insane? (And Dean called it out)
True, but that ain't so new Dean has been right all along, to push me for us to be over and done
No relation is perfect and I know it can be tough, but if it destroys it's been enough

I'm anxious, having panic attacks and social anxiety (came from you)
Never thought my imagination lacks the variety of reasons how I've been trying not to be crying,
Needed to trust you when you're lying, nah
Shit talked me even though we were together, should've known what that meant (wah)
Now to be fair I was already in a bad place, but I never expected it to be the case,
That the person I thought I loved the most, didn't care that she brought me down into my worst state
Had a hard time keeping myself straight, love made me blind I didn't want to see the signs
That somethings weren't fine, waisted a lot of time thinking you were the person of my life (yeah)
And I suck in hating, somebody hurts me two days later memories start fading,
But I guess nobody brought me this close to breaking, close to making a fatal decision,
And I know you were faking you didn't care, but I almost gave my soul for the taking

You broke my heart and a lot of things made me sad,
But when I was crying and texted you, I figured was all you said, yeah
And I was scared to death too, cause every single time you were mad or in a awfull mood,
You would stop talking even though I had no clue, even though I was begging you,
To come back to me and stop pushing me away,

A happy ending is all I ever wanted us to be

Second time you broke up with me, life looked bad, disgusted who I had to be,
Felt like I had done something illegal, your friends even threatend to call the police,
But what would you tell them huh, had I asked you or not (Uhh)
How did I not see you're so manipulative (wugh)
And I try to forgive and forget, but every time I think back,
I'd in my room, crying in my bed, cause I was stressed out so bad,
Partly because I felt responsible for when you were sad
Offered help, but you didn't want any, leave me alone was the only that you said,
Well that's what you want, so that's what you can get

You broke my heart and a lot of things made me sad,
But when I was crying and texted you, I figured was all you said, yeah
And I was scared to death too, cause every single time you were mad or in a awfull mood,
You would stop talking even though I had no clue, even though I was begging you,
To come back to me and stop pushing me away,
A happy ending is all I ever wanted us to be